2. The Director buzzed to say that he had received another call from Mr. Brundage concerning our Fiscal Year 1959 Budget and asked me to take another look to see if we couldn't possibly take some cuts. I prepared a memorandum for him outlining a method by which we could take an [redacted] cut if he would be satisfied to have the Contingency Reserve left at [redacted] (On 12 December Mr. Dulles advised me that he had talked to Mr. Brundage and had not taken any cut; presumably our Budget will be submitted in the full amount.)

6. Matt Baird reported that the local Beech Aircraft distributor had approached [redacted] and told him that he had been sent to him by [redacted] who had said that George worked for CIA and he thought that CIA might be in the market for an airplane. I reported this to Shef Edwards and asked him to get in touch with Mr. [redacted]
